

Professor Mislav Ante Omazić, PhD

Deputy Chairman of the Supervisory Board of Hrvatska poštanska banka, Independent Member

Education

Graduated 1998, completed his postgraduate scientific master degree 2003 and received his PhD 2007 at The Faculty of Economics & Business, University of Zagreb - Doctor of Science - scientific field of Economics, Organization and Management.

Career

From 1998 until today, has been employed at The Faculty of Economics & Business, University of Zagreb, where has been a full professor at Department of Organization and Management since 2019, through scientific-teaching titles of Assistant Professor and Associate Professor.

His area of work and interest are related to organization and holding lectures at all levels of studies in the field of scientific and professional interest in science: management, project management, change management, leadership, business ethics, corporate social responsibility, share management and non-financial reporting. He is a mentor for final, graduate and specialist postgraduate and doctoral theses.

Participated in various professional and scientific projects and meetings, regularly publishes the results of scientific and professional work in relevant publications. Applies the acquired knowledge in economics through an advisory role and through participation in various projects.

Member of the Expert Council of the University of Zagreb, member of the Advisory Board of Pivovara Medvedgrad Ltd., Zagreb and an independent expert for project evaluation in the field of economics at the Public Research Agency of the Republic of Slovenia (ARRS), Ljubljana, Slovenia. An independent quality control expert for higher education and vocational education programs and institutions at the National Agency of the Republic of Slovenia for Quality Assurance in Higher Education (SQAA), Ljubljana, Slovenia.